Gordon Melvin originally trained as an artist and was ordained an Anglican priest in 1988. He worked for many years as a chaplain in the NHS. He left the NHS in 2004 to teach the Enneagram. He now runs Enneagram classes in several different countries - always in the context of spiritual practice and meditation.

The workshop is being held for men who have who come across the Enneagram through Richard Rohr's work or through the Men's Rites of Passage. It is not intended to be exclusively for 'Initiated' men, but for men seeking to deeper their own spiritual practice.
